Subject: Website - Please review

Official PolRep Website is going up momentarily. If we still want a separate one, I drafted this to go above the August 6 statement, which will stay.

Please let me know your thoughts on having a separate website in addition to the PolRep one and the language below.

There will be a public meeting today at 1:30pm at the County Commissioner Building located at 1101 2nd Avenue, Durango.

August 7, 2015 Update:

The one time large release from the mine ceased within hours. There is still water seeping from the mine to cement creek.

The plan is to build settling ponds today retain these flows – the upper pond will be completed by early afternoon, and the lower one by COB or early tomorrow. Once the ponds are built, caustic soda and flocculent is available on-site to provide treatment.

The Animas River is clearing up - it is cloudy but no longer red.
